

YB TEO NIE CHING
DEPUTY MINISTER OF COMMUNICATIONS AND DIGITAL MALAYSIA

I would like to extend my unwavering support towards the much-awaited 2nd edition of Cyber Digital Services, Defence and Security Asia 2024 (CyberDSA'24) conference and exhibition, set to take place in the vibrant city of Kuala Lumpur.

I believe that a robust digital ecosystem requires a strong presence of the cyber security community. As we witness the integration of technology in various facets of our lives, safeguarding of our digital infrastructure, sensitive information and individual privacy becomes not only a priority but an imperative.

The success of the inaugural CyberDSA event back in August 2023 has swiftly established itself as a premier regional platform for experts, thought leaders and stakeholders from around the world to converge, deliberate and collaborate on the latest advancements, trends, and challenges in the realm of digital security.

I hope that CyberDSA'24 continues to offer many invaluable opportunities for people to exchange insights, share best practices and foster meaningful partnerships that will undoubtedly shape the way we navigate the future cyber and digital frontier.

I commend the organizers and its strategic partners for their dedication and foresight in curating an enriching agenda for CyberDSA'24. From artificial intelligence, digital forensics and incidence response, I believe that the upcoming event that will be held at the Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, from 6th to 8th August 2024 is set to deliver a comprehensive and insightful experience for all participants.

Together, let's embrace the challenges and opportunities of our digital future, united in the pursuit of a secure and thriving cyber landscape.

Wishing everyone a fruitful and inspiring CyberDSA 2024!
